Net Sales

[96.8% YoY]

Orders for the System from industries other than the financial sector increased, while the financial sector was experiencing a period of slower orders for large projects. Sales of the Products were sluggish, mainly reflecting the impact of the March 11 earthquake at the beginning of the term under review.

System: Sales declined, reflecting a fall in the number of orders for large development projects for the financial sector, which showed especially strong demand in the same period of the previous fiscal year, despite strong orders for system development projects for the services and manufacturing industries.

Operations: Sales rose, as customer cutbacks in operating costs, mainly through greater in-house production, began to ease, and new operating projects were acquired.

Products and other: Sales declined, reflecting the effects of the earthquake, despite stronger demand from cloud computing-related companies.

Staffing service: Sales remained almost unchanged year on year, reflecting the impact of active sales promotion that focused on presenting plans and proposals, despite the continued severity of the business environment, including the cancellation of staffing agreements in anticipation of the introduction of a revised Worker Dispatch Law.

[96.0% vs. initial plan]

Sales underperformed the initial plan, as demand for IT investments did not recover to the level initially anticipated.

Gross Profit

[106.1% YoY]

The gross margin improved, mainly given fewer unprofitable projects (especially on a non-consolidated basis) and an improvement in the profitability of projects linked to greater productivity. ((Consolidated) margin for the same period of the previous fiscal year: 13.1% -> Margin for the period under review: 14.4% (+1.3 pt))

[97.3% vs. initial plan]

The gross profit slightly underperformed the initial plan, given slow sales that failed to match the plan. The gross margin reached the level initially planned.

((Consolidated) planned margin: 14.2% -> Actual margin: 14.4% (+0.2 pt))

Operating Income

[132.1% YoY]

Income rose significantly with the improvement in the gross margin.

[105.1% vs. initial plan]

Income exceeded the initial plan, reflecting an improvement in the gross margin and a reduction in SG&A expenses.
